CLARESHOLM LOCAL NEWS

Don't forget the huge bran pie in the Parish Hall, December 4th at 3 p.m.

Don't fail to see "Shipwrecked among Cannibals" at the Rex Theater, Dec. 3 and 4.

Dr. R. M. Riggs of Calgary spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simpson.

Last Saturday the college football team defeated the town team 34-0. Another game is scheduled for this Saturday.

The organ recital recently selected will take place at the Presbyterian church on next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The annual missionary sermon will be preached next Sunday morning and evening in the Methodist church, by the Rev. Thomas Powell of Calgary.

At the sale of J. B. Humphries on December 1st, the farm machinery, etc., belonging to the estate of Mr. Alvin Curtis, deceased, will also be sold by public auction.

Remember the big tea and sale of home cooking to be held in the Parish Hall December 4th at 3 p.m. The Ladies Guild of St. John's church invited to wipe out the cost of the rectory.

"Shipwrecked Among Cannibals," six reels of the most amazing pictures ever taken. The astonishing adventures of Edward Laemmling and William F. Alder among the man-eaters of New Guinea. The pictures will never forget. Rex Theater, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 3 and 4.

The L. O. O. F. annual district convention will be held in Clareholm next Monday afternoon and evening. The district includes High River, Cochrane, Cayley, Siksika, Crowsnest, Gramercy, Macleod, All Odd Fellows will be welcome at the convention sessions.

PAGES FROM THE DIARY OF EDWARD LAEMMLING AND WILLIAM ALDER

The Two Camera Men Who Were Shipwrecked Among
Cannibals

January 28.—As we turned toward the jungle the tops of the ship's masts still stood beneath the waters and from the jungle, red to thousand eyes, hidous and ministered fear at us. We were shipwrecked on Frederick Henry's Island, a scattered settlement 10 miles away, and cannibals hid in every thicket. Our hearts sank within us.

February 1.—Thousands upon thousands of hungry stomachs gnawed at us in the sun-baked mudholes that were the jungle. Every tree hid a naked body. The bones of a thousand human skulls bleaching on the sun-baked beach after the myriad of festering orgies. Poisonous darted arrows to the tangle of the grassy slopes of the anticipating man-eaters. And these were our welcoming hosts!

February 2.—We have been on the sand-bar for days, not a minute but what some terrible looking savage is seen fitting from bush to tree. Huge black demon-like features, horribly marked with great tufts of hair, sprang from the mists. One or the other of us stood guard every minute for we knew not when this great black cloud of hungry savages would descend upon our little shelter.

Pretty quickly we learned to make approaches to the chief of the tribe, a giant black brute, entirely naked but with a poisoned spear poised in threatening position before us to let him pass.

He did not speak, merely grunted and threw back his mighty arm as though to pierce us with his deadly weapon. But the shark-like human peril in an endeavor to placate them with presents and a demeanor of friendship.

February 12.—We learned of the former presence of a missionary and set out to locate his former shelter. One of the chiefs explained that he had been eaten some months before as vengeance for the man-eating plague. This food was grim meat—if this holy messenger was not safe among these blood thirsty animals what hope could there be for us?

February 21.—Today we visited the little village and when we entered the cabin the cannibals naked bodies crashed, slashed and seared from head to foot with weird savage instruments of pain—their brutalities, save off the savagery, their talon-like teeth glittering in contrast to their blood red lips and purpled gums, arose and assumed a threatening attitude.

February 22.—Through the night they danced in the full glow of their fires. Their seared and torn faces shown like ghastly demons and their bodies down to the skin of hideous contorted. Their weird decorations shown in the light like little tongues of fire and we did not know what minute this mad dancing horde would descend upon us and eat us up. It was the blood dance of the Kik Kik and maddened savages writhing in paroxysms of狂暴. No strength, no energy, no eye of man left.

February 23.—What a blessing! Today a ship arrived off the island and a number of native savages under command of a very friendly Englishman, Mr. Johnson, came ashore. Our absence and the failure of our steamer to report had occasioned the visit. We packed ready to leave. We were to go to Macrae, the nearest settlement, 300 miles distant.

An Armistice Day Appeal

In a few days people the world over will celebrate the second anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, that great event which signified the final triumph of the cause of freedom over the powers of a military autocracy bent upon world domination and a denial of those great principles for which liberty-loving people have struggled and died throughout the long centuries.

Armistice Day is one which should never be forgotten, nor its significance to the whole human race ignored. It should be indelibly written upon the hearts of men and women everywhere, and should imperishably stamp into the minds of the children now and in generations to come. More than this, each recurring anniversary of the Armistice may well be marked by some act of a public character, a simple enough effort to call attention to the war's most act in the nature of a Freefall offering, a tangible and practical expression of thanks for the victory achieved, an annually recurring day upon which some little sacrifice will be made by the many in all nations for the benefit of those whose misfortunes and sufferings call loudly for human sympathy and practical assistance.

So far the Canadian people have responded to the call, some such nation's observance of Armistice Day this year, and it is fitting that the world's greatest and most widely known humanitarian organization should thus lead the way. Along among all voluntary organizations of an international character, the Red Cross has been officially recognized by the League of Nations as a proper body to exercise functions and discharge important responsibilities in the field of international relief. It has been appealed to by the Council of the League of Nations to undertake at its first great war the task of the terrible epidemic of disease now sweeping over a large portion of Europe, and relieve the indescribable suffering and distress which accompanies and follows that epidemic. Hundreds of thousands of people are stricken and dying of typhus, tuberculosis and diphtheria, while positively millions of children, thousands upon thousands of whom are dying, lack food, clothing, shelter and care and are dying in appalling numbers.

To meet this awful need, and if possible prevent the spread of typhus throughout the world, the League of Red Cross Societies, which now includes thirty different countries, is sending doctors, nurses, medicines, food and other necessities to the countries where the epidemic is prevalent.

English Red Cross volunteers of all sorts of civilization and humanity all over the globe, man discharge its full duty in the present great emergency, a British Empire War Relief Fund has been inaugurated under the patronage of H.M. the King, and with the support of all political parties and humanitarian organizations. This fund is to be administered by the British Red Cross Society in co-operation with the League of Red Cross Societies.

Contributions of £1,000,000 have been received by the British Red Cross Fund, and of this amount $800,000 has been indicated as the amount which Canada ought to supply. The Canadian Red Cross has assumed the task of raising half million dollars, and Armistice Week has been designated as the period during which an appeal will be made to the Canadian people to make contributions which, in the aggregate, will total that amount.

At the head of the Canadian Red Cross is a man who has always had very properly been largely confined to work for our own soldiers and sailors, and in the direction of promoting health, preventing disease and relieving distress and suffering at home. Now, in the face of untold horrors and suffering, a world appeal comes through the Red Cross to the Canadian people. It is an appeal to which the Red Cross organization could not turn a deaf ear. It is a call to action which cannot be resisted and must not be denied.

The motto of the Red Cross is not narrow nor selfish, but which whole sympathy and support.

In Western Canada the appeal on behalf of the British Empire War Relief Fund will be made to the people through local branches of the Red Cross and in the newspapers. All contributions will be sent to Red Cross headquarters in London, England, and then forwarded through the head office for Canada to the British Red Cross.

As was the case on all occasions in the past, it is now 'loped' and expected that the warm-hearted, open-handed generosity of the people of the West will result in a prompt response to the appeal on behalf of the disease-stricken and starving men, women, and, more especially, children of Europe.

A Frightful Fire

Caused widespread sorrow—like wise fire in the Arctic region. The cure is "Putman's," the old reliable Putman's Corn Extractor, that never fails to always cure; try it at all dealers.

Lessons of the Leaves.

We should draw a lesson from the leaves which put on their gayest hues in the autumn of the year. They make the landscape one gorgeous mass of color; there is no sadness in them. We know their future; how they will help in beautifying and enriching the earth, in some other form. We can wait for the knowledge that when autumn has passed we shall in some form serve the purpose of a wise Creator—King of Standard.

Dog Earns $10,000 a Year.

Car, a beautiful Rambler, was bought some time ago by Mrs. D. Hale, of Pasadena, California, for $10,000 a year by appearing in thirty-one pictures, supporting such stars as Mrs. Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks. His last New York appearance was in Basil King's "Earthquake."

King George Sells Grapes

Books Were Made By Blind Soldiers at St. Dunstan's.

His Majesty King George has done a roaring trade as fruits seller this season. So great has been the demand for the King's grapes from the Royal Kitchen that the Royal Palace, which H.M. Office of Works announced would for the first time be sold this year to the public, that the greatest part of this year's crop of 600 bushels was speedily disposed of.

The grapes cost $1.25 a pound, in bunches made by blind soldiers at St. Dunstan's Hostel.

So many orders were received by telephone, mail and telegram, that many times the crop could not be disposed of. A large portion of the grapes was reserved for visitors to the gardens. During the war the grapes were distributed by the King among the wounded soldiers in hospitals, but before they were always reserved for His Majesty's own table.

"Meeney says he doesn't know you at all," he was surprised at that. He never sees me, you know."

"But I thought you said we were members of the same church."

"Yes; but I take up the collection."

Prisoners of War

Many thousands of European Soldiers Still Awaiting Repatriation. Although it is now nearly two years since the armistice was signed, that there are still 500,000 prisoners of war, half-starved, half-naked, awaiting repatriation in Germany, Russia, Siberia and Turkey, the latest shock to the world.

Generally speaking they are nationals of governments overthrown either by the war or by revolution thereafter. Most of them are Austrians, Czechs, Russians, Poles and others. Others are British, taken in the great battles on the eastern frontier. Some are Russians held in France.

At the break of the Austro-Hungarian war, before the armistice, over thousands of former subjects without a government to care for them. The swift changes in power kept the succeeding governments engrossed in problems at home, with little thought for the welfare of lost war prisoners.

Pills of Attested Value.—Parsons' Patent Pills are the result of a careful study of certain roots and herbs, and the action of the roots and herbs, and the action of the digestive apparatus. The compounds have yet withstood the test of time. These pills have been recommended for years as among the best cleansers of the system that can be got. They are now recommended from the first and still continue.

Prolonging Life of Shoes

Careful Drying of Damp Footwear Big Item in Economy.

By the exercise of a little care the life of leather shoes may be considerably prolonged, says Thrift Magazine. It is a well-known fact that if a wet shoe is placed too close to a fire, the leather will be dried out, and sometimes ruined before the rest of the leather shows appreciable signs of injury. Wet shoes should be dried slowly and short trees inserted to prevent the shoe losing their shape and becoming unattractive.

It is recommended to keep at least two pairs of shoes, wearing them in rotation. Some shoe manufacturers claim that two pairs of shoes worn alternately outwear three pairs of shoes worn consecutively.

CASCARETS

"They Work while you Sleep"

You're sluggish—allow me molasses! You are bilious, constipated? You feel headachy, full of cold, dizzy, unwell? You have a sore back, stiff neck, stiff, skin, yellow. Take Cascarets tonight for your liver and bowels and sleep soundly. Cascarets are a safe, effective, non-narcotic, non-injurious medicine. Children love Cascarets, too. 10, 25, 50 cents.

Field Crops of Canada.

The total field crops of Canada will this year reach nearly 1,250,000 bushels, and the production of wheat and corn will exceed 25,000,000 tons, as compared with over 1,000,000,000 bushels of grain and 20,000,000 tons of hay and corn in 1919, according to figures released by the Department of Agriculture. The price of wheat in 1920 will be lower than in 1919, but the price of 1920 will still average $2 per bushel. The field crops of Canada represent about $170 per head of the population, as compared with $110 per head in the United States.

Hasten The Day.

A speeding up of production all round will hasten the advent of the glad day when a dollar will buy a dollar's worth of goods. A tendency to a shorter working day and greater efficiency is noted in the papers. In this way alone can the present scale of wages and the shorter working hours be maintained. Altogether the prospects are bright on this score, for early working conditions—Hamilton spectator.

"Heah, conductor!" yelled the passenger on the southern train. "What was my startin' out? Why didn't you stop at such and such a place?" "We don't stop there no more," said the conductor. "The engine's mad at the station agent."

BEWARE OF DECEPTION

Statistics show that when egg albumen is used as a constituent of baking powder, the amount so used is too small (usually 15/100 of 1%) to affect the quality or effectiveness of the baking powder containing it, and when so used, is plainly for the purpose of fraud. Intelligent buyers will not permit themselves to be deceived by the water glass test.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

ALWAYS IN THE HOUSE

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little one she always keeps a supply on hand, for nothing to equal them in keeping children well and healthy. Tablets are a mild and gentle laxative, against constipation, thus driving out constipation and indigestion, and helping to make a sick child strong again. Concerning them, Mrs. Calister Pelleter, of St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and an never without them in my medicine cabinet. I can say with the greatest satisfaction and I can fully recommend them to all mothers. The tablets are sold by mail at 25 cents a box from The Williams Medicine Co., Rockville, Ont."

Care of Farm Machinery

Needed Repairs Should Be Made When Harvest Is Over.

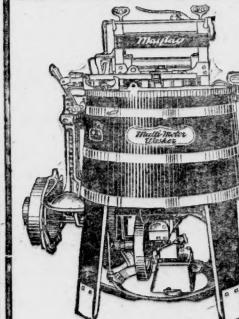

The attention that is given farm machinery this fall will determine its condition when it must be used in the spring. How many times have we seen machinery when taken out of the shed in the spring that some repairs which was needed has not been attended to? And then—delay, when delay is costly.

A Witness Testifies SHE WAS WEAK AND NERVOUS

Brampton, Ont.—"About five years ago I began to suffer with rheumatism. I became all run-down and was so completely exhausted I could not do anything. I could not get out of bed. I saw the doctor and took a few days off work without getting better. I was taking Dr. Pierce's nerve tonic and his Golden Seal. I was only 21 years old. I was very ill. I was compelled to remain in bed for months, but should I need it I would take it again. I am now 26 and I feel them to be excellent."—MRS. MARIE KNIGHT, 51.

OWES HER LIFE

Fr. S. H. Gillett, Alta.—It is with great pleasure that I write the following and I hope it will help the many sufferers who do not know what to do. The first thing one does would do is to let them try what I have done. "In regard to my condition, I will say that I am now 26 years old and in excellent health. I had the misfortune of having spinal meningitis when I was one year old and was bedridden for a year. I am now in excellent health, but a very kind lady told my mother about Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription and she gave it to me. It is the best medicine I ever had. That mother got 50 bottles. I am now in excellent health. My doctor gave me up and said I would not live, but I still stick to Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. I am now in excellent health. I am now 26 years old and my surprise in three weeks I was out of bed and better. I owe my life to it and nothing else. I am now in excellent health."

"If any sufferer wishes to write to me I will answer with pleasure."—MRS. MARIE KNIGHT, 51.

Animals Killed in War

British Armies Lost About Fifteen Per Cent. Each Year

Fifteen per cent. each year of all the animals in service with the British armies during the war was caused, according to statistics compiled by the veterinary section of the imperial war museum. In comparison with the human casualties the figures seem remarkably low. They are the lowest in the history of the war campaign. Actually 484,143 animals lost their lives, including 5,599 lost at sea through enemy action, in all theaters of war except that of the Dardanelles, where 13,861 animals died. The total killed in all theaters are 120,013 animals, of which 2,812 lost lives in service. The mortality among the canines was much higher than that among horses, although the latter were exposed to more danger from enemy action.

Need Men For Navy.

The Naval Department still requires a considerable number of men for the two destroyers and the cruiser to be brought out from the Old Country. The vessels are still at Portsmouth, the delay being caused, it is thought, by lack of men for manning them.

Czechs Abound in Cleveland.—Cleveland, Ohio, is said to have 45,000 residents in its borders, most Czechs that are said to be in any city in Czechoslovakia, save in the city of Prague.

If a man is unusually polite, a woman is apt to be suspicious of him.

Healthy, Happy Boys and Girls

Is your child healthy? Is he or she up to standard weight, of good color, with plenty of rich, red blood to nourish the growing tissues?

For children who are thin, pale, anaemic, under weight, nervous, restless, sleepless, Dr. Chases' Nerve Food is of the greatest benefit imaginable.

Being mild and gentle in action, and yet wonderfully restorative, it soon makes the blood rich and builds up the feeble nerves.

To Revolutionize Use of Electricity

Italian Inventor Claims He Can Control Static Electricity From the Atmosphere.

The scientist, Signor Guglielmo Lenzner, Italian inventor, that the static electricity of the atmosphere can be transformed into regular dynamic currents, promises to revolutionize the use of electricity the world over.

With Signor Lenzner's apparatus, electricity is drawn out of the atmosphere, the process doing away with costly power plants, water power, etc.

The apparatus is very simple, consisting apparently of a 12-foot high post, on which is a collector of aluminum combined with radio active substances.

The collector is connected with the soil and that of the atmosphere are reciprocally attracted by induction, while the radio active substances cause a reaction not yet explained, which changes the nature of the current.

Mineral Output in B.C.

The monetary value of the mineral output of British Columbia for 1919 was $33,266,313, as compared with $25,000,000 in 1918, showing a decrease in quantity in the minerals, but owing to the high prices of silver, that metal showed a monetary increase.

Where the Money Goes.

The post office in a village in Poland reports that 37 men, formerly residents there but now living in America, send home an average of $65 a man a year.

Use Miller's Worm Powders and the battle against worms is won.

These powders correct the morbid condition of the body, nourish worms, and those destructive parasites cannot exist after they come in contact with the worm powders. Worms are speedily evacuated from the bowels. Sound health is the important result organic powders, when used correctly, bring the health to the child steadily improves.

Playing Truant.

The teacher had a great deal of trouble with Fred's attendance. He was absent so often that she got suspicious, and wrote a note to his parents, as follows:

"Dear Sirs, I am sorry to say that Fred is playing truant and I would like to have his operation in securing a better attendance record from him."

That afternoon, he came this answer:

"Dear Teacher—If Fred is playing truant he doesn't feel it at home. We are church people, and he hasn't got a playing card in our house."

Woman Breaks Up Receipts.

Customer comes back to broken in Japan, in Tokyo, by Mr. C. R. Thompson, wife of a San Francisco importer, who painted her motor car over more than 500 miles of dangerous territory between Kobo and Yokohama in a little more than 31 hours.

A merchant can obtain an imitation of MINARD'S LINIMENT from a Toronto druggist at a very low price, and have it labelled his own product.

The grasy imitation is the poorest one, and the druggist is advised to the smoke or vapor, reaching the most remote passage of the affected part, and the patient should then open a way for fresh air to enter. It is sold by dealers throughout the world.

League Costs $400,000 Monthly.

The sum of $400,000 monthly will be required to run the League of Nations, according to the budget just approved by the council of the League at Brussels. This budget will be presented to the League assembly at its coming session in Geneva.

Catarrhal Distress Cannot Be Cured.

Philosophers are long-lived, as all the history of philosophy shows, and men are philosophers, taking things as they come, ignoring the party cares that tick the common pulse of the world. The man in the know, that is to say, that the industrial man will be quite as much at rest as himself and quite as devoid of the fruits of industry. So you may say, on the whole, there is reason in the view that man lives longer.—Detroit Free Press.

An Oil That Is Prize Everywhere.

Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil was put on the market in 1895 and has sold over 600,000 bottles since. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its popularity was known, it became a welcome comfort for a field, and is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing to equal it.

"SHIPWRECKED
AMONG

The Authentic Picture Story of the Adventures of Two Daring American Cameramen Among the Man - Eating Savages of New Guinea

Never have there been pictures like these---absolutely true and real yet surpassing in drama the wildest fictions of scenario writers. When Edward Laemmle and William F. Alder set out to obtain for Universal, in co-operation with the Southern California Academy of Sciences, some pictures of the South Sea Islands, they had no expectation of being shipwrecked, least of all on a cannibal island whose only other foreign visitor, a missionary, had met his terrible end only a few months before. As a result, these pictures have a reality above them which convinces as nothing else could do. The Audience will look on these pictures and know that at last they are seeing cannibal life as it really is, and throughout you will feel the same dread that Messrs. Laemmle and Alder felt until, happily, they were rescued and were able to bring these wonderful pictorial records back to civilization.

See the depths from whence we came! Humanity at its lowest ebb! Six reels of almost unbelievable pictures made at the bottom of the world, in the island God forgot. Where women slash and sear their bodies to seem beautiful; where men torture their faces out of all human semblance to make them appear ferocious; where a million bones attest a thousand cannibal feasts; where the face of a babe looks thirty years old; where children's playthings are human skulls. See the wild orgies of the Head-hunters, the Skull Dance, the amazing customs, dress and head-gear of these astounding savages. View these most dramatic of real life pictures ever taken since the world began and you'll see pictures that you'll never forget.
